9 The UK is sick of tyrants too. The UK gov is cucked to the EU and we are only starting to claw back power from them.

8 Yes, an emasculated world...I used to fear a global thermonuclear war, now I fear we won't have one.

7 Are you looking forward to a nuclear war as it would herald the creation of Liberty Prime?

Patriots need to get organized on the ground and a leader must emerge to direct their anger. That is all.

Patriots have a few hours to locate like minded and prepared patriots and have at least the beginnings of a plan of attack if things go to shit.

Prepare for the worst

Hope for the best

But our tyrants are the WORST

We've been lacking cohesive branding, messaging and certainly coordination of efforts. This has put us at a firm disadvantage for decades.

They've had us on the back foot for all this time. We can't continue defending the body of a headless snake. It's a synergized byproduct of their incessant denigration and our libertarian ideals.

Everyone is hoping a peaceable outcome will make this all go away. I've dreaded all the while it won't.

The embers are rising and we need individual free men to rise too.

I swear I keep seeing retards on here saying "What we need is decentralized disorganized warfare", completely unironically.

You just get downvoted for telling them straight. They have no hope and might as well be a part of the enemy.

▼ Important to note that the US militias got pretty slaughtered and defeated at first. They had to be willing to face that to eventually win.

My main point is that most of us already knew that the milita LARPer were all talk and no action, today is just going to prove us right

 Caesar crossed the rubicon on Jan 10th. History likes to rhyme and repeat. If so who is our Octavian? Who will lead us to greatness and who will be known as Augustus?

"We'll Know What We're Made Of

When Up Against All Odds We Hold Our Line

For The Cause That We So Love

We Must Hold At All Costs

We'll Know What We're Made Of

When Our Nation Needs Us, We'll Stay The Course

For The Union We So Love

We Must Hold At All Costs."

- Iced Earth - Hold At All Costs

A song about the Civil War (the second day of the battle of Gettysburg specifically) but it seems appropriate now.
